B14	2025-184729	Monster Security Services (Pty) Ltd v Langpan Mining Co (Pty) Ltd and another	Apparent incorrect enrolment. Latest practice note and correspondence identify 26 October 2026. Registrar and parties must confirm before exclusion is treated as final.

Allocation qualifications

B13: Confirm whether opposition remains live. The latest applicant practice note describes the application as unopposed, although the bundle contains opposing affidavits and respondent heads.

B15: The four-hour allocation covers the matter if it proceeds substantively. The joint note anticipates a postponement request pending amendment; the opposing position and subsequent Rule 28 developments require clarification. Respondents' counsel is unavailable on Monday and Tuesday.

B14: No removal order is assumed. The absence of a substantive allocation is provisional pending confirmation of the intended week.

All allocations are hearing time estimates, subject to the court's directions. Administrative disposal of settled, withdrawn or removed matters should be arranged separately if required.

Kind regards,

Judge HP van Nieuwenhuizen (AJ)
